

1. Author Name: Vishnu Khatri

Academic Paper Peer Editing Guide

Use the questions to guide your feedback. Your focused, specific and usable feedback is invaluable to your peers. Thank you for taking this task seriously.

Row 1 of the Rubric

- Does the writer state their topic of inquiry? Is their topic narrow and clear? Yes
- Does the writer address the topic of inquiry throughout the method and conclusion? No, not on the version I received.

Row 2 of the Rubric

- Does the writer explicitly connect the topic of inquiry to relevant scholarly work? Yes
- Does the writer present scholarly work of varying perspectives? Yes
- Does the writer specifically identify a gap and how will they address the gap? Yes

Row 3 of the Rubric

- Does the writer explain how they arrived at their method? Yes
- Does the writer explain their method logically? Yes
- Does the writer explain how their method aligns with the topic of inquiry and the purpose for the study? Yes
- Does the writer provide all the information needed to replicate their method? Yes

Row 4 of the Rubric

- Does the writer refer back to their topic of inquiry and research goal? Yes
- Does the writer HAVE a new understanding? No
- Does the writer PROVE that they arrived at this new understanding logically? No
- Does the writer identify their inquiry choices? Yes
- Does the writer provide the limitations of the conclusion? Yes
- Does the writer explain the implication for to the community of practice? No
 - Does the writer connect their research BACK to their literature review (the scholarly conversation)? No, not on the version I received.
 - Does the writer connect to their future researchRow 5 of the Rubric No

Row 5 of the rubric

- Does the writer communicate their ideas clearly in formal academic writing? Yes
- Does the writer use the correct language for the discipline? Yes
- Does the writer have errors in grammar, mechanics or word choice? Yes “mtovaition”
- Does the writer use visuals that enhance the written message? Are these visuals cited and/or attributed? No

Row 6 of the rubric

- Does the writer cite and attribute all sources and the information that was obtained from those sources using BOTH in text citation and the reference list? No
- Are all in text citations accurate? Yes
- Are all the sources in the reference list in alphabetical order and cited accurately? No, the reference list is missing.
- Are all sources listed on the reference list used in the paper? No
- Are all in text citations in the paper connected to a sources on the reference list? No

Overall which description does the paper fit?

1. Report on Existing Knowledge
2. Report on Existing Knowledge with Simplistic Use of a Research Method
 - a. Vishnu's paper falls into this category right now mostly because of its unfinished draft status. The literature review and methodology for the paper are outstanding. However, the paper is missing crucial elements such as results, conclusion, and reference list. Since there is no analysis of the data collected, this paper currently reads more like a report of the literature searched and summarized rather than a complete paper. Once he includes the data analysis, however, the paper will easily be in the higher scoring ranges on the rubric.
3. Ineffectual Argument for a New Understanding
4. Well-Supported, Articulate Argument Conveying a New Understanding
5. Rich Analysis of a New Understanding Addressing a Gap in the Research Base